

The embodiments of the invention in which an exclusive property or privilege is claimed are defined as follows:

1. An amusement device for conveying a rider comprising:

an elongated exit slide defining a long predetermined path along its length from a high elevation at a first end portion thereof to a lower elevation at a second end portion thereof, the exit slide having a rider entrance intermediate its first and second end portions and at an elevation below the first end portion; and means for introducing a rider through the entrance opening in a direction toward the first end portion and at a velocity sufficient for sliding of the rider along a portion of the exit slide upward to the first end portion for deceleration of the rider, followed by travel of the rider along the long predetermined path of the exit slide.
